

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	5
Introduction	7
1. Principle One: Accountability Begins with Brokenness, Confession, and Repentance	11
2. Principle Two: Accountability Requires Your Being Able to Talk About Your Feelings and Needs	20
3. Principle Three: Accountability Always Requires a Group of Men or Women, Not Just One Person	45
4. Principle Four: Accountability Means You Must Get Rid of the Garbage in Your Life	58
5. Principle Five: Prepare When You Are Strong for a Time When You Will Be Weak	78
6. Principle Six: Accountability Means Building and Defending in Equal Measures	91
7. Principle Seven: To Change a Negative Behavior, You Must Do Whatever It Takes for As Long As It Takes	105
Conclusion—Accountability Is a Lifestyle	119
Notes	123
Resources	125